ROTATION CONTEST TO BEGIN ON ALLEYS
NEXT MONDAY

(By PREXY.)

Another rotation tournament will begin Monday at the A. L. Giamann billiard parlor. These tournaments are interesting, and give the watchers much amusement. Every day twelve two-men teams will meet at 3:15 and 8:20 p. m. and the six winners each day will play in the finals, Friday night. The qualification days are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The games will be limited to fifteen minutes play and each team must win two out of three games in each match. Only local players can enter the contest.

All of the best players are put on a scratch list so as no two players of real ability can play together. This gives every team an equal chance as there can only be one good player on a team.

MEN ARRESTED
YIELD UP MONEY

The sum of $35 was collected last night by the Ogden police department from W. P. Coggle and the same amount was collected from L. M. Lack by the police department of Brigham City. The collections were made up on advice from the sheriff of Bannock county, Ida., following the arrest of the Coggle and Lack, for the alleged obtaining of money under false pretenses.

According to the Ogden police, the department was instructed by the Idaho sheriff to arrest Coggle and Lack, when they got off an Oregon Short Line train at the station and similar instructions were sent to Brigham City. Lack got off the train at Brigham City and was promptly "grabbed" and the same experience befell Coggle at Ogden. Shortly after the arrests were made, instructions came to collect $35 from each of the prisoners and release them. This was done.

Deaths and Funerals

EMMETT—The funeral of Walter F. Emmett was held yesterday afternoon in the Second ward meeting house, with Bishop Robert McQuarrie presiding. The speakers were Apostle David O. McKay, T. S. Browning and Bishop McQuarrie. Special music was furnished as follows: Solo, "The Link Divine," Douglas Brian; solos, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling" and "A Perfect Day," Etta Browning; solo, "Thy Will Be Done," Walter Stephens. The service was largely attended and numerous floral offerings were placed upon the bier and in front of the pulpit platform. Interment was in the city cemetery, the grave being dedicated by George Shorten.

LAWRENCE—Mrs. M. C. Lawrence died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her daughter, Mr. A. B. Corey, 583 Twenty-sixth street, of general debility. She was born in Eaglesville, Ind., in 1847, came to Utah 45 years ago and has lived in Ogden the greater part of the time. Mrs. Lawrence is survived by four daughters and two sons. The funeral was held this afternoon in the Kirkendall chapel and the body was shipped to Hagerman, Ida., for burial. Frank Lawrence and Mrs. A. B. Corey, accompanied the body to Idaho.

JOHNSON—Mrs. Johanna Katrina Johnson, wife of William A. Johnson, died at the residence of her father, Peter A. Boyer, 126 Washington avenue, this morning at 7:12 o'clock. Nephritis was the cause of death. Mrs. Johnson was born in Denmark, August 28, 1878, and came to Utah in 1880, first residing in Ogden. April 29, 1901, she was married to W. A.

BOY IS ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED BY AN AUTOMATIC

Curiosity to know the exact working of a 25 caliber automatic pistol of the Browning make, inflicted on H. C. McKnight, the 16-year-old son of Chief Clerk C. L. McKnight of the Union Pacific company, a severe wound in the left hand. The boy was taken to his home after a physician had dressed the hand. (The doctor in attendance stated that it could not be determined until tomorrow whether the bones of the hand had been fractured.)

The boy found the revolver this morning and when at a point near the Scovercroft place of business, on Twenty-third street and Wall avenue, he undertook to determine whether it was loaded and just how to discharge it. He looked down the barrel a time or two and experimented with the trigger. He finally concluded the gun was not loaded, and that if it was he could not discharge it. Then he moved the safety clutch, and pulled the trigger, and the gun was discharged. The bullet passed through the left hand, entering the center of the palm.

The young man was immediately taken to the home of Mrs. J. J. Felix and a doctor summoned. The father soon appeared on the scene and the lad was taken home. In the meantime officers were called to the place and they summoned the automobile to take the young fellow and his parent home.

The lad said he was happy that he did not get the combination when he was looking down the barrel.

HEADQUARTERS OF AN INSPECTOR TO BE IN OGDEN

Ogden has again been given recognition as a logical point for the establishment of a headquarters and a desirable place of residence for a government official whose jurisdiction extends throughout northern Utah, according to an announcement made at the local postoffice this morning.

The official is Postoffice Inspector M. M. Warren, who arrived in Ogden yesterday evening from Denver and passed today in looking over the city. He will depart tomorrow for California to pass the Christmas holidays and will return to Ogden in time to open his headquarters in the federal building. Mr. Warren is one of two inspectors of the Colorado division of the United States postoffice department, which covers Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and other intermountain states. His work, conducted from the general headquarters at Denver, has for several years past been confined mainly to the investigation of fraud and robbery cases.

In line with a recent change of policy of the department, instead of the inspectors in the division being stationed in Denver, they have been apportioned to the different states. Mr. Warren was privileged to locate either in Salt Lake City or Ogden and his choice was this city.

In speaking of his prospective residence here, this morning, Inspector Warren said his choice of this city for his headquarters and residence had been made for several logical reasons. Among them was that the city is a better point for railroad connections for the northern part of the state and that it appealed to him as being a fine residence city. The fact that the headquarters of the chief clerk of the railway mail service of this division is in Ogden, Inspector Warren said, was also an incentive for his locating here, as close relations between the railway mail service and postoffice inspection departments are of much advantage and importance to both.

Mr. Warren has been a postoffice inspector for the past 22 years, working in all parts of the country. He has a son who is now a student at Leland Stanford university, and at the close of the school year next June, expects to bring his family, the members of which are now living in California, to Ogden to reside.
